HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS

Arsenal's Defeat By The Villa

SUNDERLAND LEADS

By losing at home to Aston Villa by the odd goal in three, the Arsenal have surrendered the lead in the First Division to Sunderland and Stoke, who took full points from Leeds and Everton respectively.

In the Second Division Bolton is still a point ahead of Brentford in spite of their 4-0 defeat at the hands of Bradford. Brentford has gone up to second place by their win over Burnley, and Manchester United's defeat at Hull.

Charlton's draw at Northampton and Reading's win over Bristol Rovers have not displaced the leaders in the Southern Section of the Third Division, although Coventry's loss have caused them their second place which they have surrendered to Reading. In the Northern Section Chester, Doncaster and Wrexham are on level pegging with Stockport who went down to Tranmere 3-1. Tranmere are making a bold bid for promotion, having secured 25 points in 15 games with only one defeat. Halifax are consolidating their position too, they have 25 points in 16 games with 2 defeats.

As all the leaders in the Scottish League drew, no change has taken place in the leadership which is occupied by the Rangers.

Peps

Handy Silver-Wrapped Tablets

"The Remedy You Breathe"

THESE wonderful Peps breatheable tablets bring the valuable air-like medicine of the Pine Forests into direct contact with the throat and bronchial tubes. When dissolved slowly in the mouth, these valuable soothing and antiseptic fumes are liberated and carried with the breath deep into the chest and lungs—where liquid medicine cannot possibly penetrate.

Deep Into Chest and Lungs.

In this direct way, Peps allay soreness and inflammation inside the bronchial tubes. They cut choking phlegm and quickly clear and strengthen all the breathing passages. Peps have solved the problem of ending throat and bronchial troubles without the aid of dangerous drugs like laudanum, chloral, morphia, etc.

JOHN BURNS IS 76

Only His Beard Has Changed Colour

John Burns—"Honest John"—the first working man Cabinet Minister, was 76 yesterday.

The only difference between the young John Burns of the great dock strike of nearly fifty years ago and John Burns to-day is that hair and beard are white.

The double-breasted reefer jacket, the uncompromising bowler hat, and the square-set figure are the same.

Books are his hobby, and his collection of Elizabethan editions is famous.

There was never any false modesty about John. When Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal Premier, gave him Cabinet office in 1905 he said: "Mr. Prime Minister, this will be your most popular appointment."

Burns left the Liberal Ministry at the outbreak of war. Confidence was stronger than ambition.

COMMEMORATION OF JOHN BOSCO

Special Services At Catholic Cathedral

Catholics in Hong Kong attended in large number the procession which took place yesterday in connection with the commemoration of Don Bosco.

A Pontifical Low Mass was held in the morning at the Roman Catholic Cathedral, while at 10.30 a.m., a Pontifical High Mass was held, special music for the latter having been composed by the renowned Professor Pagella, S.S.

In the afternoon, a lengthy Procession round Caine Road, Albany Road and Robinson Road was held followed by a sermon and benediction. The Rev. Fr. G. Byrne, S.J., delivered a most interesting sermon on Saturday evening at the Cathedral on "Don Bosco, Saint," which we give below.

SPECIAL SERMON BY REV. FR. BYRNE

Fr. Byrne took as his text:—
"For passing by and seeing your idols, I found an altar also, on which was written: TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. What therefore you worship, without knowing it, that I preach to you," Acts 17, v. 23.

He said: The story is told that Michelangelo, having finished his masterpiece, the sculptured Moses, stood for a moment in admiration, before his own work. Then a deep craving surged through his being; was that all? cold, unresponsive marble? "Speak," "Speak!" he exclaimed; and the work of his hands, the creation of his mind, looked at him with its slightest eyes of unswerving stone.

Could God be less interested in the work of His divine hands? "God saw all the things that He had made, and they were very good." But they were silent. Then God made the masterpiece of the world: "God created man to His own image," and man, with a soul lit up with the beauty of that image, spoke to His Maker: "He brought them to Adam to see what he would call them." Child of God and father of the human race to come, Adam stood and communed with God.

Man has understood the truth. He has never been satisfied with the erection of mere works of industry and art; wherever he has gone to found a home he has erected temples. However much he may have neglected his central role as High-priest of Creation, he has always, at least dimly, understood that hands clasped in prayer are more powerful than hands grasping the sword-hilt. If he has forgotten the language of Heaven in the twilight of his soul he erects an altar to the Unknown God.

The greatness of the Saints is their union with the Known God: "that I preach to you." You have been thinking of Don Bosco as an educator, as a social worker. In both fields of activity he accomplished much. If however he had been nothing but an educator, nothing but a social worker, his name might—it is a mere chance—have been attached to a system, or linked with a movement, without awakening any personal chord of sympathy in those who used it.

He would have been a reflector of some of God's light—even the heavens reflect it—we might have been grateful for the light though uninterested in the reflector. But Don Bosco was more than that. Certainly he reflected the divine light brilliantly, but he contained it. "I in them, and Thou in Me; that they may be made perfect in one." Don Bosco was a Saint. If you ask what it is to be a Saint, the Church replies to be heroic in virtue. If you further ask by what path the hero travelled to the heroic, the Church will reply with her Master no other than the path of prayer: "Ask, and you shall receive, that your joy may be full" (John, 16 v. 24) one saint may differ all along the line of life from another—"one is the glory of the sun, another the glory of the moon, and another the glory of the stars" (1 Cor. 15, v. 41), but to every saint, as Michelangelo to his statue, God cries: "Speak, oh, speak to Me!" Every saint is a man of prayer.

Union With God
When speaking to you of Don Bosco the saint, this is the one, indeed the only point which I wish to stress this evening. The details of his life already set before you leave no doubt that he was a man of action, indeed of so much action that one might doubt if there was time in his crowded life for contemplation. Brethren, if there was not time for prayer, considerable time for prayer, if prayer, intimate union with God, was not the atmosphere of Don Bosco's life, the Church would never have told us that we might appeal to him to help us in our prayers: Don Bosco would have been no saint, still less a canonized one.

Men are gradually dropping the word "Progress." At the beginning of the century "Progress" was the epitome of civilization; it was the mark of a cultured people. It was something measurable in the handicraft of man, something appreciable in his science and his art. To-day we speak rather of Peace as an ideal than of Progress. Like the Athenians men are groping in the troubled market place of life, where they have erected an altar to the Unknown God, without learning to pray to Him. With St. Paul, and all the long line of Saints, Don Bosco comes to them and says "what you are searching for I bring you, that in Him we may live, and move, and be: it is the path of prayer, a simple path, the child may walk by it."

On general principles we cannot doubt that this was the way of Don Bosco. We can appeal, however, to first class testimony. Let me read you this paragraph from his life:

"No man is great to his valet," says the proverb. It is, however, to his servant that the saint is a great man. "I lived with Don Bosco for 25 years," declares his servant, Peter Enria, "and I have seen him always praying. How often I discovered he was praying when he was going upstairs, or in his room after work." His secretary adds the testimony: "For more than 25 years I have been witness of his perfect union in spirit with God." St. Paul said "to me to live is Christ." Don Bosco never dreamt of being formed in the school of any other Master. He did not merely read that "Jesus passed the whole night in the prayer of God" or that "rising very early in the morning Jesus went into a desert place to pray." With His Master Don Bosco watched at night; with his Master, he rose very early to pray.

Cavour Asks For Prayers
During the course of his life Don Bosco had frequently to deal with some of the leading European statesmen. His dealings with Cavour form quite an episode in his life. Their last meeting was in 1860. They had just said goodbye when Count Cavour turned to the Saint and said: "We are friends as before, dear Don Bosco, and... pray for us." To which the Saint replied "I will pray, Sir, that God may be your helper in life and at the hour of your death. Cavour was attended by a priest before he died."

I mention the fact to stress my point. In their heart of hearts even those from whose lives prayer is far recognised that there is no power among men comparable to the power of prayer; and that the Saint stands on an eminence precisely because, like Moses, he ascends the mountain to commune with God.

You remember that Don Bosco, asked for his plan of education, replied "but I have no plan." The truth is that his plan was the plan of prayer. The abiding character of the educational work of Don Bosco, the really uplifting effect of his social work for the walls and strays of humanity lie in the spirit of prayer which is the spirit of all the Saints.

It is not fifty years since the death of Don Bosco. Already his sons, the Salesians, have spread over Europe, America, Asia, Africa, Australia. With them they bring the educating spirit of Don Bosco:

PARIS AIRCRAFT EXHIBITION

War Planes On View

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Paris, Nov. 18.

A warlike note in the form of the preponderance of military pursuit and bombing planes of many nations prevails at the fourteenth Paris aircraft exhibition which takes place twice a year and which was opened here on Friday in the Grand Palais by President Lebrun in the presence of the diplomatic corps, numerous prominent personalities and representatives of the aircraft industries in various countries. The German Heinkel express plane of the type in service on the Stuttgart Seville route which connects up with the German Transatlantic service to South America attracts much attention. One of the features of the exhibition is the gondola of the Soviet stratostat USSR which last year reached the record height of nearly 12 miles as well as the airplane used in rescuing the marooned crew of the Chesky expedition. All auxiliary industries connected with aviation such as aerial photography, and signalling are well represented.—Transocean Kuo Min.

AMMONIA REFRIGERATOR INVENTOR

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Munich, Nov. 18.

you have considered its simple charm and its lasting fruits. With them they bring his zeal for social uplift; you need not wander beyond the walls of St. Louis School to study its effects. But with them, they bring as the inner fire of their own lives what was the inner fire of their Father's, the spirit of prayer. On that depends the success of their work. Were a Salesian to forget it, he might educate, he might promote social work, but he would have ceased to be the true son of the Saint. The Athenians had the altar to the Unknown God: Don Bosco erected his Oratory to the Known God, the God of Love.

Message to Parents

To all of us the solemn triduum which we close this evening has its message. To parents a special one. They must never forget that they are the natural educators of their child. In the home of their making is laid the foundation of all education. The upbringing of their child is the most sacred of their parental trusts. Let them pause and ask if Don Bosco the educator has ideals in common with them. Let them pause and ask if Don Bosco the social uplifter would need to uplift them socially. Let them pause and ask if Don Bosco the Saint would be at home in their home.

None of us can quite get away from social work: "Am I my brother's keeper?" "Yes" is the life-long answer of the Saint pointing to the words of the Master: "I was hungry and you did not feed Me, thirsty and you did not give Me to drink." Can we range ourselves in the company of the Saint in any of his works of zeal for his fellow-man?

People tell us that the world is calling to-day for great statesmen. No! Brethren, the world is calling for Saints who can pray. Years ago the great English statesman Gladstone when asked what he considered the greatest need of the day replied: "the greatest need is the sense of sin"; and it is just the Saint with his power of prayer who has it. To-day much more than in Gladstone's day we need this sense of sin, and we need the spirit of prayer which creates it. Herein is to be found the healing balm for the wounded world. Herein lies the greatest of all the appeals of Don Bosco. When the Educator passes by we may stand and admire; when the Social worker is in our midst we can praise; but when Don Bosco the Saint passes along the path of prayer, we can, all young and old, say we must follow and pray. Such is the fruit of the spiritual Triduum: may it be an abiding one.

TWENTY MILLION SWEETHEARTS

Showing At The Alhambra

Whistling, humming and laughing an enthusiastic audience left the Alhambra Theatre last night, unanimously declaring the new First National picture "Twenty Million Sweethearts" delightful entertainment, and attesting the arrival of a new romantic screen team which will probably be registered among the great lovers of the cinema. Dick Powell and Ginger Rogers.

With Pat O'Brien cast in a part made to order for his unique abilities as a comedian, and Powell and Rogers, making musical love throughout the action of the fast moving and hilariously funny comedy, with the Four Mills Brothers, and Ted Flo Rito's orchestra, and a remarkably capable cast in the supporting roles, "20 Million Sweethearts" will undoubtedly take its place as one of the outstanding hits of 1934.

Dick Powell is as brilliant in this picture as he was in the great musicals of "Wonder Bar," "42nd Street," "Gold Diggers of 1933" and "Footlight Parade." If not more so. His voice has a quality of unusual warmth and colour while his personality is one of exceptional charm. He has been named "the man with the million dollar smile."

The titan haired Ginger Rogers, who plays opposite Powell as his radio sweetheart, won fame both on the musical comedy stage and in such screen musicals as "42nd Street" and "Gold Diggers of 1933." In "20 Million Sweethearts," she not only gives a splendid performance but renders her songs in a voice of rare and unusual sweetness.

"Till String Along With You," first sung by Powell alone, and later with Ginger, is one of the liveliest romantic numbers ever put out and is destined to be one of the outstanding song hits of the year. Other tuneful airs by Warren and Dubin include "Out for No Good" sung by Miss Rogers, "Fair and Warner," a piano solo by Ted Flo Rito and "What Are Your Intentions" sung by Dick Powell, to the accompaniment of Ted Flo Rito and his band.

There are several specialty numbers that alone are worth the price of admission. These include songs by the famous Four Mills Brothers and their guitar, imitations by the Three Radio Rogues and Ted Flo Rito's orchestra.

Pat O'Brien is excellent in the lead role, a comedy characterization of an over-enthusiastic and over-confident radio talent scout whose fast talking wins him many a prize plum, which he as promptly loses through his blundering promotion schemes.

Allen Jenkins, as a children's hour entertainer, is a show in

SHOWING AT THE KING'S

"Servants' Entrance"

The present offering at the King's Theatre is Fox Film's "Servants' Entrance" which brings again to the silver screen the sweethearts of "State Fair," Janet Gaynor, and Lew Ayres. The two stars are again cast opposite each other as screen lovers in an amusing and laugh-provoking comedy-drama in a modern setting.

Miss Gaynor plays the part of a young society girl who has always had money enough from her father, Walter Connolly, a rich automobile manufacturer, to do whatever she pleased, and who suddenly discovers that she has been everywhere and done everything. In order to learn more about life, Janet goes to an employment agency and secures work as a kitchen maid, in spite of the fact that she has no idea about cooking or housework. Ayres is the chauffeur of the family with whom she finally finds work, and the two of them provide much fun for the audience with their amusing quarrels, which start when Janet tried to tell Lew something about an automobile. Having invented a new type of motorboat, he is naturally resentful that a girl should attempt to tell him anything concerning gasoline engines.

The picture marks a departure from Miss Gaynor's usual type of role. Previously, she has always played straight romantic parts, but in "Servants' Entrance," she blossoms forth as an able comedienne and she reaches the heights of amusement in a very funny sequence with Ned Sparks (playing the part of a sour-dispositioned carpoolist), in which she finally ends up by scoring a perfect bulls-eye with a pie which she has tried to serve Sparks for dinner.

However, the picture is not straight farce, but the comedy is skillfully interwoven in a plot concerning the meeting between Ayres and Miss Gaynor and their subsequent romance.

Though a chauffeur by trade, Ayres is mechanically inclined and has succeeded in perfecting a new type of speedboat, the model of which he calls "Minnie." He is wrapped up in "Minnie" and until Miss Gaynor appears in his life, the boat has been the subject of all his affections. But when he sees the pretty new kitchen maid, "Minnie" soon runs a poor second.

The two principals give fine performances, combining romance with a touch of comedy here and there, which makes "Servants' Entrance" an amusing and thoroughly enjoyable attraction.

MAE WEST

Matchmaker

Mae West, the famous Paramount star, whose next picture is BELLE OF THE NINETIES, appears to have been responsible for one or two little Hollywood romances in recent weeks.

The blonde star is, of course, the apostle of curves and when she wrote the story of "Belle Of The Nineties," she wrote in a scene for a troupe of dancers who, without being fat, must certainly be well-rounded.

The next thing was to find girls who were plump and could dance. She found some, but then there were hitches. There seemed a dearth of plump dancers. So Mae signed on six or seven girls of average figure, handed them each a list of menus and told them to get good and plump. They did, and the result was entirely satisfactory to all concerned.

Now comes the end of the story. It might be a coincidence or not, but within a month of their attaining statuesque proportions, four of the girls had become engaged.

"Well," said Mae, when she heard the news, "that's what curves does for one. No guy wants to marry a razor blade."

himself, while Grant Mitchell as the frisky studio manager, Joseph Cawthorne as a radio advertiser, Joan Wheeler, Henry O'Neill and Johnny Arthur, all do fine work.

"TO THE LAST MAN"

Coming To The King's

Convincing as are all his novels, Zane Grey, author of "To the Last Man" (which Paramount has made into a thrilling outdoor romance), declares that first hand knowledge of his characters is the keynote in this romance of the Tonto Basin.

"To the Last Man", as filmed by Paramount, will be shown on Thursday at the King's Theatre.

"In 'To the Last Man' more so than in any of my other stories", Grey said, "was my writing an expression of my feeling for the people and the places which make up the story. I knew definitely what I was writing about. I knew my characters their ways and their environment. This outdoor romance was the result of years of close and intimate study."

"For example, I long desired to get the story of the Pleasant Valley feud of the Tonto Basin, but the natives were very close mouthed. I made long stays there during three years. I built a hunting lodge and lived among the people. For a long time they would not breathe word to me about the long-family fights. But finally I landed the story of 'To the Last Man' and wrote the book."

"I have done the same kind of location work for other novels too, and they have been desired by producers as good screen material because of their fidelity to nature."

The natives' story follows closely the plot of "To the Last Man". In the film, one of the feuding Kentucky clans decides to end bloodshed and leaves for the West, after putting the head of the other family in jail for the last killing. After fifteen years, the jail-bird

I'VE GOT YOUR NUMBER

Next Change At The Alhambra

When Joan Blondell went to bat with Warner Bros. studios during the filming of "I've Got Your Number," her latest picture, over the change of her screen name, she kept the real reason secret.

Apparently, the wise-cracking star wanted to be known as Joan Barnes, her married name. Other stage and screen greats have used their legal name and had been very successful and Joan, as the wife of George Barnes, ace cameraman, wanted to be a wife first and a screen star second. At least, that is what the public thought.

It finally leaked out that Joan was thinking of her sister Gloria, who is making her debut in "Harold Teen" (a Warner Bros. funny film), and wanted to make the tough climb easier for her younger sister by allowing her the exclusive use of the Blondell name. Feeling that the same name would handicap Gloria, Joan determined to be known as Joan Barnes.

The studio had something to say about the change, however, and having built "Joan Blondell" as a name, has so far refused to permit it.

Joan has the role of a wise-cracking telephone operator in "I've Got Your Number," which reveals the inside workings of the telephone system. Others in the cast include Pat O'Brien, Glenda Farrell, Allen Jenkins, Eugene Pallette and Gordon Westcott.

follows for revenge and tries to force his enemies to reopen the feud. The family battle is further complicated by the love that grows in the midst of the fight.

GIRL WITHOUT A ROOM

Coming To The Queen's

Something unusual has been achieved in Charles R. Rogers' "Girl Without A Room", the Paramount attraction coming on Wednesday to the Queen's Theatre.

It is a melange of fun but the romance supplied by Charles Farrell and Marguerite Churchill, is fresh, appealing and believable although it occurs in the midst of the giddy, mad setting of the Montmartre district of Paris.

Charlie Ruggles, Gregory Ratoff and Grace Bradley as well as a quartette of goofy Russians set a mad comedy pace. Walter Woolf, the latest find from Broadway, makes his debut and seems destined to be another new heart throb for young femina.

The story is hilariously funny. Farrell is a "nut" artist who paints what he feels and not what he sees, and gets into a mess of trouble and notoriety by winning a contest with his painting hung upside down.

"Girl Without A Room" is from Jack Lait's novel and has been directed by Ralph Murphy. The sparkling dialogue is by Frank Butler and Claude Binyon. The songs are by Val Burton and Will Jason. "Rooftop Serenade" sung by Sam Ash and Marguerite Churchill and "You Alone" sung by Walter Woolf are certainly fated to be outstanding popular hits.

This is a wild-eyed picture, all right, but it's great fun, just what we want these days.

Sometime ago, Hong Kong saw this very clever actor in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," a picture which was acclaimed one of the best in character portrayals. Those who enjoyed that picture should make it a point to see "Death Takes A Holiday" for here March again gives an excellent portrayal in a difficult role.

The story is based on the idea that "Death" curious to discover why men fear him so and what they hold so dear in life, emerges from the shadows, takes on the human form of a dashing, romantic lover, and for three days tests all the human illusions. He becomes the guest of honour at a gay houseparty, keeping his true identity secret. He dazzles the young women present with his beauty, his wit and his mysterious importance.

With each of them he seeks to find the real thrill of love, for he has been told that of all human emotions, love is the strongest and dearest. But with each of them he fails to find the thrill he expects, until at last, he captivates the heart of one girl and discovers the true meaning of life and love. Dreading the revelation of his true personality, he puts off the fatal moment until the very last second of his "holiday."

CHILD SCALDED TO DEATH

Three Fatalities Reported

A crop of tragic incidents were reported to the Police over the week-end.

A three-year old Chinese child, living at 18 Bridges Street, was removed to the Government Civil Hospital on Saturday suffering from serious scalding, from the effects of which he died the same evening.

In a report made to the police, it was stated that the child accidentally fell into a pot of boiling water.

The scene of the second fatality was in Queen's Road West, where Lee Nam, aged twelve, in attempting to cross the road in front of bus No. 610, which was proceeding from West to East, was struck down and crushed to death under the wheels. The incident occurred outside the Kam Ling Restaurant.

The third fatality is that of a "mut tsai", sixteen years of age, who died from severe injuries received after jumping from the top floor of 18 Kennedy Road into the street. She was rushed to hospital on being discovered, but died shortly after admission.

S.W.B.'s FAREWELL MATCH

Souvenir Presented By South China

(By "PIVOT")

Quite a big crowd turned up at the Club ground yesterday afternoon to witness the "farewell football match" between the South Wales Borderers and South China "A" which resulted in a win for the latter by five clear goals. This is the Borderers' last match before their departure for India. Prior to and during the interval, the Band of the 1st Battalion, The South Wales Borderers rendered selections and at the close of the game Maj. General O. C. Borrett, before presenting souvenirs to the winning team in a few well chosen words congratulated South China on their victory and remarked that the game was very sporting and well contested and he was sure that the Borderers were leaving the Colony with the best wishes of the football fans. He told the gathering that South China would be presenting a cup to the "24" as a souvenir of their sporting rivalry in their sojourn here.

After the presentation Wong Wing, captain of the South China team handed Cpl. Mullane the cup and three hearty cheers were given to the Borderers. In the course of the match Li Kwok Wai was accidentally kicked by Mullane and shortly after Leung Wing Chul broke his head in a heading duel with the same player and had to leave the field for treatment.

The Game

Play opened with South China attacking and end to end play was the order for the first ten minutes. The Chinese by excellent combination took the ball down the left, Tam Kong Pak slipping it to Fung King Cheong for him to go through to net the first goal. Shortly after this South China had the misfortune to lose two players through injuries and played with nine men, the Borderers taking advantage of this were continually attacking and South China was on the defensive. Half time arrived with South China leading by one.

After the change over Fung King Cheong put Wong Mee Shun through, the latter beating Smith with a beautiful drive. South China obtained their third goal from a corner by Ip Pak Wah, Tam Kong Pak, with one of his characteristic headers, but the ball past Smith and shortly after the same player scored again another corner by Tso Kwai Shing.

The best goal of the game came near the end. Fung King Cheong taking the ball through on his own and after eluding Herbert, Mullane and Podmore, drove the ball to the top corner of the net with his left giving Smith no earthly chance.

Immediately after this a penalty was awarded against the Borderers and Smith brought off a well timed save from Fung King Cheong.

The final whistle sounded with play transferred to midfield.

The Borderers should have scored on more than one occasion, their forwards 'lacked' shooting.

Around the Courts

FALSE PRETENCES

Another remand was granted by Mr. Macfadyen at Central Magistracy on Saturday in the case in which Lo Yu-tin, a rent collector is charged with obtaining $10,000 by false pretences from the Tat Cheeong Firm, bankers, of No. 118, Des Voeux Road, Central.

The defendant is alleged to have obtained the money upon deposit of five provisional certificates for eleven shares in the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, comprising four shares in the name of Lo Lau-shung, one share each in the name of Lo Wing-cheong, Lo Wing-chun, and Lo Kwong-lum, all of Macao, and four shares in the name of Lu A Su, also of Macao.

Mr. F. X. D'Almada, sen., appeared for the prosecution, while Mr. C. E. R. Sanderson, was for the defence and pleaded 'not guilty'. Bail of $15,000 was allowed.

POLICE SUPERVISION

"This is the first case I have ever known where police supervision has stopped a man from stealing," said Mr. E. W. Hamilton at Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday when Leung San, a 24-year-old unemployed, charged before him with stealing a pair of pinchers from Yeung Shau, a 40-year-old married woman.

The defendant was stated to have four previous convictions, two for larceny in 1930, and one for larceny and one for loitering in 1932. He had been under police supervision since June 1932.

In passing sentence of three months' hard labour, Mr. Hamilton stated that as police supervision seemed to keep the defendant from crime he would put him under police supervision for a further two years.

INDIAN CHARGED

On a charge of entering the Colony without a passport, Thaker

Singh an Indian, was fined $50 or, in default, six weeks' hard labour by Mr. Schofield at Central Magistracy on Saturday. Accused came from Macao, and was formerly employed as a watchman in Amoy.

An expulsion order against the defendant was also made.

POSSESSION OF LOTTERY TICKETS

Found in unlawful possession of 52 "po plu" lottery tickets, a Chinese named Yik Cheung, was charged before Mr. Hamilton at the Central Magistracy on Saturday morning, and was fined $25 or, in default, one month's hard labour.

The accused pleaded guilty but added that the tickets were not his own.

KEEPING SLY BROTHELS

As a result of Police raids on last Friday night, two Chinese, a man and a woman appeared before Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court on Saturday morning on charges of keeping sly-brothels at No. 64, Lockhart Road, Wanchai.

Both defendants pleaded guilty and his Worship imposed a fine of $250 or two months' imprisonment with hard labour on the first defendant and another of $200 or seven weeks on the second.

ILLEGAL POSSESSION OF OPIUM

Before Mr. Hamilton, at the Central Magistracy on Saturday morning, a Chinese named Ma Shing, unemployed, was charged with illegal possession of several tins of raw opium.

The defendant pleaded guilty and a fine of $100 or in default six weeks' hard labour was imposed.

The quantity of raw opium was ordered to be confiscated.

JUMBLE SALE

Successful Function

A sum of $30 was realised on Saturday at St. Andrew's Church Hall at a successful jumble sale in aid of the Victoria Diocese Mother's Association.

The helpers were:—Miss Armstrong (Hon. Sec.), Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Petherick, and Mr. Baldwin (Committee Members) Mrs. Excell, Mrs. Woolley, Mrs. Bliss, Mrs. White, Miss Stewart, and the Misses Lucy West and Juliette Durandau (of the Diocesan Girls' School).

MILITARY TOMBOLA

A large gathering, estimated at about 300 was present at a military charity tombola held on Saturday night at the Garrison Lecture Hall. Over 50 people were fortunate winners.

Among the winners were T. Draper, A. Rye, J. Wardle, A. Smith, H. Donnings, L. Rees, G. E. Brown, T. Bolton, F. Potter, A. Warr, J. King, E. Sims, R. Thompson, W. H. Reed, F. Parker, D. Lucas, A. G. Howard, Mrs. W. Bonham, A. Charwoods, N. Ince, E. Hignett, C. W. Smith, S. E. W. Peacock, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Russell.

ability. Podmore, Morrison, Smith and Jones played well, especially Smith in goal, who brought off many fine saves. Wong Wing did well for South China between the sticks and Li Tin Sang and Lau Mau performed creditably at back.

YUGOSLAVIA'S APPEAL

To Be Countered By Hungary

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Belgrade, Nov. 17.

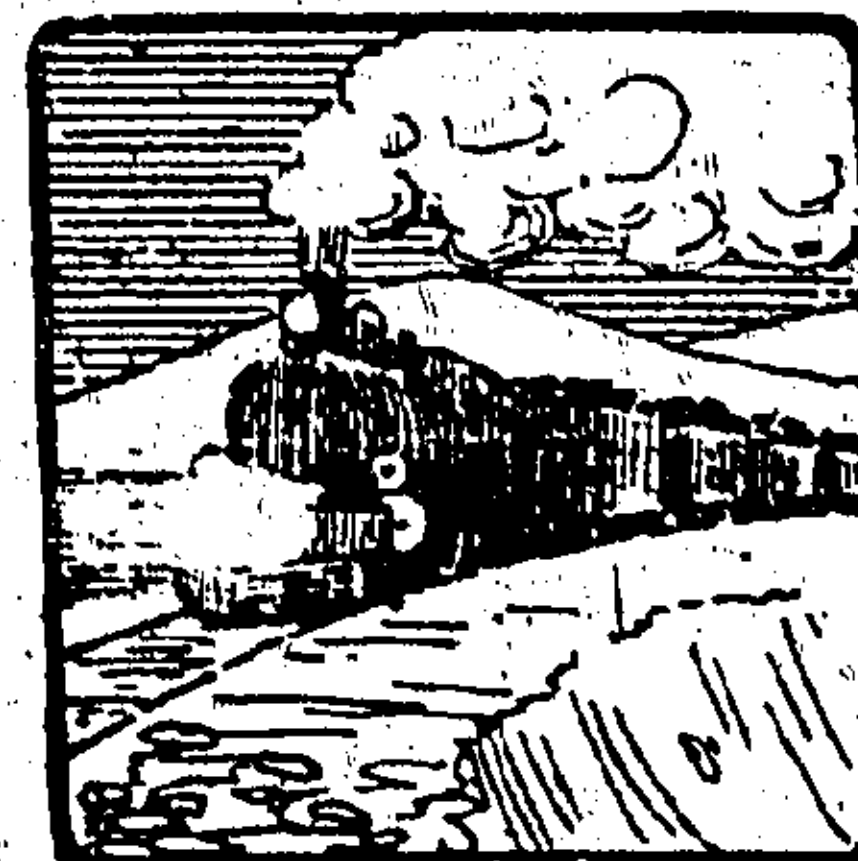

Yugoslavia's decision to bring the question of responsibility for the Marseilles murders up before the League of Nations will be countered by Hungary with an appeal to the League to investigate Yugoslav violations of the provisions for the protection of minorities, according to reports emanating from well-informed circles where it was pointed out that Hungarians living in former Hungarian territory ceded to Yugoslavia, had been lately subjected to severe persecution.

The impression prevails in political quarters here is that the action planned by Yugoslavia is directed not so much against Hungary as against Italy in the hope that the general discussion of the question of responsibility of the Marseilles assassinations may turn public attention to the alleged co-responsibility of Italy, especially in connection with the question of the extradition of the two Croatian revolutionaries, Pavelitch and Kaverinich which Italy is making contingent by prolonged court proceedings.

FOR THE POOR

St. Vincent de Paul Society's Report

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul have issued the report for the year 1933. This will convey some idea of the work which is being carried out by this society for the poor of the Colony.

The report, in part, reads as follows:—

The disbursement under this head during the whole of 1933 amounted to $7,690.50. For the first nine months of 1934 it was $5,340.70, as against $5,831.50 for the same period in 1933.

The Council regrets to state that owing to the smaller revenue it was found necessary to reduce the allowances in many cases.

During the nine months January to September, 1934, the society has contributed to the maintenance of 135 families, comprising 208 persons, to whom assistance has been given irrespective of race, nationality and creed.

1018 visits have been made to the poor in their homes during the period under review.

The expenditure in 1933 was $93.45, while for the nine months ended September, 1934, it amounted to $183.75. There was one operation case helped.

The Society is deeply grateful to Drs. Ozorio, Gutierrez and Barnes for their honorary medical treatment.

Education

The question of education has greatly exercised the attention of the Society during the year, and 103 children, whose parents are the Society's beneficiaries, are receiving an English education at the expense of the Society at La Salle College, St. Joseph's College, St. Mary's School, Maryknoll Convent School, and St. Francis School, while 32 are attending the Society's Vernacular School the Kallap School at Wanchai.

Besides providing education for these children, the Society is also maintaining 3 destitute orphan girls at the Italian Convent.

The Society acknowledges with grateful appreciation the special concessions which La Salle College, St. Joseph's College and St. Mary's School have made in respect of fees.

General

Owing to the low state of the Society's funds at the end of 1933, it was not possible to make the usual Christmas grants to the poor under its care. This was the second time in many years that the society was unable to give this little extra relief at Christmas, and it was a very distressing disappointment to our poor people.

BURIAT MONGOL REPUBLIC

Advice By The Soviet

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press").

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, November 18, 4.30 a.m.)

Moscow, Nov. 17.

In the flamboyant style that characterises Soviet manifestos, the Inspector-General of the Red Cavalry, Budjenny, wired to the cavalry regiments of Buriat in the Mongol Republic, an appeal on the occasion of the Mongol Republic's tenth anniversary. The following are the highlights of the Red Inspector General's manifesto: The enemy is menacing the Soviet Union. One must face the forthcoming political events and be ready to fire. In the glare of fire of the coming international war, started already in China, the first blow will be directed against the Soviet Union. He would thus appeal to the Buriat Mongol cavalry to be as brave as in 1929 when in their struggle for the Chinese Eastern Railway they won laurels against the Chinese. He urges the Buriat Mongol Republic to fortify every little piece of territory to safeguard against all hostile attacks at the hands of "eastern imperialism."

Transocean Kuo Min.

It is interesting to record here that during the nine months ended September 1934, the Society has benefited by "In Memoriam" donations to the extent of $317.95. This practice of contributing to Charitable Societies in memory of departed friends and relatives, instead of sending wreaths to the cemetery, is becoming more general in Christian countries, and to all those who have helped the Society's funds in this way the Council desires to convey its very real appreciation and thanks.

The council desires to record here its sincere and heartfelt regret at the demise of Mr. J. M. de Castro Basto, who had been a regular contributor towards the Society's Bazaar for a great number of years.

The Society is deeply grateful to the following for their invaluable assistance: the ladies and gentlemen who have so generously come forward to help in the monthly drive for subscriptions, which has resulted in a welcome addition of $2,955.51 to its funds up to the end of September; the Hong Kong Benevolent Society for their willing co-operation; Mr. E. D. de Rosa, A.S.A.A., for so kindly auditing the Accounts and the Press of Hong Kong for privileges granted.

LESSON SERMON

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 18.

The Golden Text was: "The creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God" (Romans 8:21).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And he will destroy in this mountain the face of the covering cast over all people, and the veil that is spread over all nations. He will swallow up death in victory; and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it. And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us; this is the Lord; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation" (Isaiah 25:7-9).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is only by acknowledging the supremacy of Spirit, which annuls the claims of matter, that mortals can lay off mortality and find the indissoluble spiritual link which establishes man forever in the divine likeness, inseparable from his creator" (P. 491).

CHINA TEA

Production And Consumption

Nanking, Nov. 11.

A comprehensive report on the production and consumption of tea has been made public by the Central Agricultural Experimental Station of the Ministry of Industry, following an intensive investigation throughout the country.

Green tea heads the lists in production, occupying 62 per cent of the total output, says the report. It is followed by Black (Red) tea with 36 per cent.

53 per cent of the tea is harvested in the spring, 31 per cent in summer and 16 per cent in autumn.

The annual consumption in this country amounts to 7,000,000 piculs with an average of 7 catties per capita. Most of the tea is consumed in the provinces of Kwangtung, Hunan, Kiangsu, Szechuen and Kiangsi, with only a small percentage in the north-western provinces of Chahar, Suiyuan, Ninghsia and Kansu.

On account of the different tastes of the people in the north and the south, most of the black tea is consumed in the provinces of Shensi, Suiyuan, Chahar and Shansi; green tea is the favourite among the people in Chekiang, Fukien, Anhwei, Kwangtung and Hunan.

The average price of tea in the country is 60 cents per catty. With the exception of the provinces of Anhwei, Fukien, Kiangsi and Kwangtung, where the price was at its highest five years ago but has since then been dropping, the general price of the commodity this year is the highest in recent years.—

SAILORS RESCUED

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press").

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, November 18, 4.30 a.m.)

Cherbourg, Nov. 17.

Four French sailors, part of the crew of a ship-wrecked sailing vessel, were landed here on Friday by the German steamer, Spezia, which picked them up off the Portuguese coast where their vessel sank in the recent storm. The sailors reported that the other boat containing the remaining five members of the crew had succeeded in reaching the coast, but that their boat was driven out to sea where, after drifting round fourteen hours, was at length sighted by a Portuguese steamer, of which the captain, so the sailors asserted, refused to take them on board when he learnt they were Frenchmen.—

LESSENING WAR
CAUSESBritain's Example
To The Nations

London, Nov. 16.

The Dominions Secretary, Mr. J. H. Thomas at Newport, said that neither directly nor indirectly was there any secret agreement which involved British in any commitment on the continent of Europe.

They were faced with many difficulties and elements were abroad over Europe which created a war spirit, namely suspicion, ill-will and mistrust, but he saw no warrant or justification for the war talk now prevalent.

Dealing with question of traffic in arms he appreciated the anxiety felt on the subject. Britain, however, was the only country which had a licensing system for the export of armaments by means of which effective Government control could be exercised, and to his knowledge millions of pounds worth of orders in the last three years had, in consequence of this system, been refused.

They had also refused, and would continue to refuse, Government credit of any kind to the manufacture of armaments. He wished other nations would follow this example.

He would welcome an inquiry into the situation regarding the private manufacture and national control of armaments and believed it would show results of which they would have no reason to feel ashamed.—

DEAD

Gen. Von Liebert

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, November 18, 4.30 a.m.)

Berlin, Nov. 17.

One time Governor of former German East Africa, General von Liebert, one of the few surviving veterans of the Austro-Prussian War of 1866, died in his Upper Silesian estate, aged 85. Liebert who also took part in the World War as divisional commander of the western front, played a prominent part in Germany's public life before the War especially as one of the leaders of the former Colonial Society, the former German Naval League as well as being the founder of the "Reich League for combatting social-democracy".

After the World War, Liebert devoted himself to literary work and became a member of the National-Socialist party. He was for some years a member of the Reichstag and since 1929 had been one of the most vigorous champions of the Third Reich.—

INSULL CASE
OVERJury's Verdict On
Nov. 22

Chicago, Nov. 18.

The trial of Samuel Insull, Sr., his son, and fifteen other former executives of the Insull trust organisation, charged with using the mails to defraud the public, was virtually concluded to-day.

The final witness for the defence was Samuel Insull, Jr., who stated, among other things, that it was true that a block of Insull stock had been marked up over a period of ten years from U.S.$10,000 to U.S.$5,000,000.

The witness said, too, that a large portion of his father's enormous charitable donations had been paid not in cash but in Insull shares. In some instances a comparatively small value of gift stock soared to many times its original worth.

After the summing up by Judge James J. Wilkerson at the Federal Court, the jury will consider its verdict on November 22.—

A DOMINION DAIRY CRISIS

New Zealand, like its neighbour, Australia, is becoming increasingly anxious about future markets for the expanding output of her dairy industry.

The report of the Royal Commission, which was appointed to enquire into this problem, has just been issued. Its principle complaint is the flooding of the British market by the dumping of subsidised dairy produce from countries in the Northern Hemisphere and Australia. We have not the full report before us, but we cannot reconcile the statement just quoted with the great increase in supplies from New Zealand in the British market during recent years. Imports of butter from New Zealand in the first nine months of this year, were ten per cent. larger than in the same period of last year, and one hundred per cent. greater than in 1929. In fact, for the first time in history, New Zealand has now become England's largest single supplier, their imports from her actually exceed the imports from Denmark. Similarly, for imported cheese, since 1929, her share of the British market has risen from 70 to 77 per cent. It is true no doubt that prices have fallen by more than half during those five years and that New Zealand in 1934, is receiving a greatly reduced return in money from a large volume of deliveries. There is no gainsaying the fact that Britain is buying fifty per cent. more butter in 1934 than she did five years ago. It is also true that steps might perhaps have been taken to secure a still larger share of this increase to New Zealand than she actually had. But when every allowance is made for these factors, it nevertheless remains that New Zealand has been doing very well in the British Market.

It is unfortunate that Britain have entered into a whole series of engagements which practically bind her to grant the foreigner a proportionate share of any expansion of her market, thereby limiting New Zealand's opportunity very substantially. That is a legitimate source of grievance which Britain ought to assure New Zealand of her intention to rectify as soon as those treaties expire. In the meantime, Britain ought, in consultation with the representatives of the Dominion, to cast about for the ways and means of so adjusting her general policy in

CABLE NEWS FROM THE NORTH

DR. H. H. KUNG PLEASED With Progress In China

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Shanghai, Nov. 18. After a three hours' trip by Condor plane, Dr. H. H. Kung and Madame Chiang's party, including Mr. W. H. Donald arrived from Tsingtao at 11 a.m. yesterday.

The Finance Minister expressed satisfaction with the progress in reconstruction in the north west and North China and specially eulogised Shantung's headway under General Han Fu Chu. He was pleased over the strides made in Tsingtao, in promoting educational and sanitary reforms which are winning warm praises from the Chinese and foreign community.

He informed Pressmen that the recent trip to the north of General Chiang Kai Shek has given an impetus to the New Life movement in the north western provinces which brought about a closer relationship between the Mongol leaders and the Central authorities.

Dr. Kung is leaving for Nanking early in the week.—China United Press.

A CLOSER BOND Mongolian Leaders Visit Nanking

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Nanking, Nov. 18. Indicating closer relationship between Mongolia and the Central authorities, Princes, Yon and Teh, foremost political leaders in Mongolia and respectively the Chairman and Secretary of the General Mongolian Local Autonomy and Political Council, have decided to proceed to Nanking before the convocation of the fifth Plenary session of the fourth C.E.C. scheduled for December 10. They will also attend the forthcoming Fifth National Congress.

Their early presence in Nanking, it is understood, is to discuss with the Central Authorities measures for strengthening national defence on the Mongolian border and effective co-operation with the National Government.

The Council's monthly expenses fixed at $30,000 will be remitted by the Government. It is also reported that the Government is contemplating the reorganisation of the Mongolian and Tibetan Affairs Committee and having future jurisdiction over the Council. It is understood that after reorganisation various posts on the Committee are to be entrusted to natives in Mongolia.—China United Press.

THE RECOVERED AREAS

Putting Things In Order

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Nanchang, Nov. 18. General Chiang Kai Shek convened on Friday a meeting of important officials and civic leaders to devise large scale rehabilitation measures in the recovered areas in Kiangsi. Mr. Hsui Shih Hui, Chairman of Kiangsi, and departmental commissioners attended.

Definite programmes regarding pacification of the people, relief for refugees, public health, communications, reconstruction of local and civil administrations, organisation of militia, and institution of "paochia" or mutual guarantee system were mapped. In order to ensure efficient and systematic carrying out of plans, General Chiang personally entrusted different organs with the work.—China United Press.

CHENG KWOK YAU CASE

Life Imprisonment For Murderer

Shanghai, Nov. 17. An echo of the sensational Cheng Kwok Yau murder case in the Hong Kong Supreme Court in August 1932 was heard here this morning when Wong Nun Hsiang was found guilty of being the actual slayer of Feng Teh Chien and was sentenced to life imprisonment by the Nantao District Court.

The Court found that Wong was hired by Chen Kwok Yau, who is now imprisoned at Hong Kong, to kill Feng, due to the latter paying too much attention to the noted Chinese actress, Miss Lai Ming-fai.—Reuter.

TO INVESTIGATE CONDITIONS

Canton, Nov. 17. It is reported that the Kwangtung Commercial Union has decided to send representatives to the United States to study and investigate labour, trade and commercial conditions with a view to improving the manufacture of home-made products for export.

Mr. Chan Chiu Yen has been appointed as head of this mission, and will depart as soon as he receives consular credentials.—Nam Wah Yat Po.

ARMED ROBBERS

Picnic Party Held Up

Wong Chui Pak, a Government Wireless Operator residing at 23, Shek Kit Mei Street, ground floor reported to the Police the experience he received at the hands of two robbers.

In company with a party of 10 girls his brother and a friend while out on a hiking picnic on the hills above Tai Po Road, on a footpath about 200 yards from Tai Po near the 3½ milestone, at 2.30 p.m. yesterday, they were suddenly stopped by two men who came from behind along the same path.

One man produced a revolver and asked him to "keep quiet," while the other searched his brother and the friend but found nothing. From his person was taken a silver watch and a chain, and a silver medallion of sentimental value which was attached to the chain was returned to Wong by the robber at his request.

Although the rest of the party had cash and valuables on them nothing was touched and two baskets which they were carrying with them at the time had cameras in them were also untouched. The robbers then ran back the way they came, up the hill towards Shatin. Wong reported the matter to a soldier who was near the vicinity. The soldier gave chase but no traces of the robbers were to be found.

Up to a late hour last night no arrests have been made.

SMUGGLERS CAUGHT

Three men and a woman, all Hokkios, will be brought up before the Kowloon Magistracy to-day with smuggling 70 cabbies of Chinese tobacco into the Colony from Chinese Territory.

A Chinese detective attached to the Shamshuipo Police Station in the course of his duties searched a Chinese coolie carrying a basket covered with a sack. On being examined it was found to contain tobacco. The Police were directed to 13 Yenchow Street, second floor from which the stuff was obtained.

It appears the locality is an isolated part of Shamshuipo near the waterfront. Sampans smuggling the tobacco anchored directly opposite the house and it was only a matter of twenty or thirty yards separated the house from the boat. The tobacco was stored in the house from where it was intended later to be transported to other destinations. From investigations which followed the four people were arrested.

NANKING IN DARKNESS

Air Raid Drill

Nanking, Nov. 17. Three Chinese Government planes from Hangchow "bombed" Nanking this morning, when a preliminary air raid protection drill was staged.

The arrival of the raiders was announced by blasts from sirens and the frantic tolling of bells. All traffic was halted and the fire brigade units were rushed to various points where fires were supposed to have broken out.

The capital will be plunged into total darkness to-night, including cinemas and other amusement centres.—Reuter.

ZEPPELIN FOR MANCHUKUO

In Exchange For Soya Beans

Dairen, Nov. 17. The so-called Manchukuo announces that negotiations are nearly completed through Captain Haupt, Zeppelin Company representative, for the exchange of beans from the three Eastern provinces for a German Zeppelin valued at 6,000,000 yen.

The barter agreement will be signed in Tokyo shortly. The Zeppelin is for the trans-Pacific service.—Reuter.

If Gossip We Must

(BY NIGHTBIRD)

SEEN AT THE RACES.

St. Leger Day at the Race Course was a big success from the racing point of view though it might have been better in the way of attendance for so few people were there despite the excellent weather which was something after the style of a cool summer's day. An account of the racing will be given by an able pen than mine but I must say that I was very thrilled by Mr. Pih's last quarter on Young Chap while Mr. Botelho, on Brechin, also provided plenty of thrills.

I saw Mrs. Somers at the Race Course for the first time this season and as there was so much fun on Saturday, I am sure we will see her again in the subsequent meetings. She wore a mixed colour, beige suit and quite close to her I noticed Mrs. Pearson, very smart in a three-piece ensemble of green and yellow while another who favoured a touch of green was Mrs. Turner whose dress of white and green blended charmingly with her green beret, worn at a rakish angle. Mrs. Stoker, one of our newly-weds, looked radiant in royal blue and walking along, towards the paddock, I ran into Mrs. Stafford-Smith who chose blue and pink with a blue hat to match.

Among a number of bright young things were the Misses Dorell—"Ann" wearing a white dress while her sister was in pink. They were so cheerful that I am sure they must have had an extremely good time. Just further along was Mrs. D. M. Biggar who was accompanied by her husband. She was in a brown outfit and Mr. Biggar as usual was all smiles.

Mrs. Polly Benson, in a navy blue dress was accompanied by Mrs. Marshall who made a charming picture in nigger brown while Miss Joseph, just returned to the Colony, was exceptionally smart in black with the cutest little black velvet hat I have ever seen, and combined as it was with a silver lame front, her black dress was a dream.

We so often see Mrs. Dunbar leading in a winner that a race meeting does not appear to be complete if we did not have this familiar sight at almost every one. On Saturday she led in Chief Seattle and was dressed in navy blue which is so becoming to her. Mrs. Hill was in bottle green and Mrs. Tobias, in a wine coloured silk dress with hat to match was in company with Miss Joseph. Mrs. Botelho in navy combined with red was walking on the lawn with Miss Basto who was dressed in black with a big white collar and Mrs. Stone had on a dress of pale blue and brown with hat and shoes to match.

There was so much activity just before the St. Leger that I was rather riled up with the dresses and their wearers but after the commotion had died down, I saw Mrs. Borrett in black and white and Mrs. Wren in a mustard coloured dress. In the same crowd was Mrs. Gedge who was one of the many who chose black and Mrs. Bellamy too, was very smartly dressed in the same colour, while yet another who favoured black was Mrs. Traerup.

—Mr. C. S. Rossetti of the Hong Kong Amusements was accompanied by his wife who was in navy blue with hat and shoes to match Mrs. Lane, wife of Commander Lane of the "Tamar" was in brown and was with the Marques.

I noticed a very smartly dressed lady who was in black with a white coat. She made a very conspicuous picture and on enquires I learnt that she was Madame Ada, at present staying in the Hong Kong Hotel, where she has on display the smartest collection of dresses I have seen for a long time. They are all models or copies of models and the prices (for such a high class grade of dresses) are extremely reasonable.

ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Saturday night was a red letter night for the Hotels and the cabarets for it was the first time that they were allowed to take advantage of the new regulations and keep open till 1 a.m. instead of having to close at midnight. Everybody concerned approved of the new curfew hour and as it is just the ideal weather for dancing, I think we will see a great many more people now that they can have that extra hour. I have heard so many people saying that it was not worth the trouble to dress and then having to go home at 12 o'clock.

The "Three Choccolaters" were again in great form at the Peninsula Hotel (the Rose Room). As usual they were very generous with their turns—and they tapped wonderfully well—I am afraid there are some that do not quite appreciate them. A large number of people were here, as if to celebrate the privilege of being able to dance till 1 a.m. without any interference. Mr. Politi had a party which included Mr. W. L. Mackenzie and Mr. Murphy of the Hong Kong Hotel. There were quite a number of young people over there and the Misses Audrey Steel and Henry were in the best of spirits, while Miss Pat Master was with Mr. Nelson, looking very sweet in a heliotrope coloured dress while as usual there were a number of "Navy wives." Mrs. Roxborough was with the Omissions while Miss Watkins of the Government Civil Hospital (in a brown satin evening dress) was with a party of friends.

"COME TO HONG KONG"

Not being able to be at both places at the same time, I had to miss the Hong Kong Hotel function but I was told that as usual the Grill Room was packed with merry-makers. By the way, did you know that Mrs. Moxon has succumbed to the Call of the East and returned to the Colony after having been away for some 12 or 13 years. Mrs. Moxon still has a large number of friends who must be very happy to have her back and happier still to hear that she is in the best of health. She was at the Races with her husband and looked extremely well in a spotted navy blue silk dress.

Among the others who returned by the Rannura was Mr. W. J. Carrie, the new Head of the Sanitary Board, Miss Abbie, a visitor to the Colony, here last year with her mother was seen at the races and the fact that she has come back again goes to prove that the Hong Kong winter is the most ideal weather in the East, if not in the world!

To Prudence.

A friend would tell you "Buzum Barmaid" was Capt. A. N. Other R.N. He has a wife, and so I think, Not-gossip would run wild, had you paid a Visit to that child. And so, why not take a chance, and give the gossip some romance. Hong Kong pigeons must have their food, so why not be kind to them, my dear Prude.

CRUDE OIL REFINERIES

Canton, Nov. 17. Owing to the withdrawal of the subsidy to native crude oil refineries and the united protest of these refineries against the Government's decision, it is reported that although the Government has decided not to renew the subsidy, it has instructed Mr. Ng Sun Yu of the Petroleum Tax Collection Department to investigate the business conditions of the different refineries with a view to devising ways and means for remedying the situation.—Nam Wah Yat Po.

ARMoured CARS FOR RAILWAY

Canton, Nov. 17. Owing to the increase in the number of bandits, it is reported that the Ning Yeung Railway Authorities in view of the recent plundering of fishing boats, rice junks and passenger junks, etc., has called a meeting to deal with the situation, and it has been decided to introduce armoured cars for the protection of the railway and the lives and property of the passengers.—Nam Wah Yat Po.

YUTU CAPTURED

Nanking, Nov. 18. Reports from Nanchang state that Government troops yesterday captured Yutu, South Kiangsi, which has been in hands of communists since 1930.—Reuter.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

There was a clean bill of health for the 24 hours ended November 18.

"Salvation by Race" will be the subject of Dr. Allen's address to-day at the Chinese Young Women's Christian Association.

All persons having accounts owing by the Officers' Mess, 1st Battalion, The South Wales Borderers are requested to submit them for payment before November 25 as the Battalion is leaving the Colony on November 29.

Miss Hilda H. Butterfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Butterfield, was married on November 17 at Gibraltar to Lt. Cecil H. de Boisville Newby, R.N., of H.M.S. "Blanche," son of the late Mr. H. Newby, of Brighton.

"A submarine telephone cable is being laid in the cable reserve between Blake Pier and Star Ferry Wharf, Kowloon, on Sunday the 25th instant at about 2 p.m. Masters are requested to steer clear of cable laying craft."

It is reported in some of the vernacular papers that Ng Lol Yuen, who was convicted of the murder of Michael Pine, will be hanged on the 21st instant in spite of an appeal having been lodged. This report of course is unfounded for the extreme sentence cannot be carried out while any appeal is pending.

AMERICAN CREDITS TO BELGIUM

To Keep The Gold Bloc Intact

New York, Nov. 18. According to the "New York Times," the Federal Reserve Banks have extended to Belgium credit of $25,000,000 in an effort to prevent the gold bloc countries being forced to abandon the gold standard. The operation consisted in advancing credit on Belgian gold en route to the United States, and was intended to relieve the pressing demand for dollar exchange due to Belgian capital fleeing to the United States. It was represented that Belgium was unable to wait for about six days required for the necessary gold to reach the United States.

The "New York Times" adds that President Roosevelt is lifting the embargo on capital export and also intends to ease the pressure against the gold bloc.—Reuter.

"STATIST" COMMENT

London, Nov. 17. Despite repeated confident prophecies of its imminent disintegration, the gold bloc still stands, declares "The Statist" in its International Banking number, but points out that the American monetary policy has played an appreciable part in consolidating its position owing to recent American support of gold currencies.

Despite the examples of Estonia and Czechoslovakia, whose trade immediately improved after the abandonment of gold, the gold bloc's determination to adhere to gold remains unshaken, avoiding at all costs the dangers of inflation.

An impasse has been reached, as the gold bloc is unwilling to readjust its currency parities until it is certain that the whole world is prepared for re-stabilisation, and while France remains on a free gold standard there is no necessity for Great Britain to contemplate an early return to the gold standard.

There is a physical and moral limit to deflation, the journal continues, and it has been very nearly, if not completely, reached by the gold bloc.

The article concludes that weakness is inherent in gold currencies, i.e. the budgetary position. Increasing unemployment, every-growing difficulties of export trade, and all maladjustments resulting from currencies over-valued beyond the reach of internal deflation render their position untenable on the long-term view, and it can only be hoped that before the strain becomes too great other countries will have moved sufficiently towards re-stabilisation to allow devaluation which will then be a conscious step to part of a general readjustment of monetary parities throughout the world.—Reuter.

FRENCH VISIT TO GENEVA

Difficult Part As Mediator

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, November 18, 7.30 p.m.)

Paris, Nov. 18. According to press views here, the Saar question and the Yugoslavian demand for investigation on international terrorism will form the chief theme occupying the attention of the French delegates at Geneva. "Liberte" writes that one must not attempt to disguise the fact that Yugoslavia's action might easily result in the appearance of two systems and two groups, namely, a group of the non-revisionist states which take up the attitude of the accusers and a group of revisionists in difficult and almost untenable position of defendants. Italy has long supported Hungary's demand and has never ceased to maintain intimate feeling with Budapest. Hence the Geneva negotiations are certain to be particularly difficult. France will have an exceedingly important but very difficult part to play, not as an umpire but as a mediator between Rome and Belgrade.—Transocean Kuo Min.

M. LAVAL'S MOVEMENTS

Paris, Nov. 18. Although the Saar Committee of Three have not finished their labours at Rome and the Saar question can hardly come up for discussion at the League of Nations Council before the week-end, M. Laval has decided to proceed to Geneva on Monday so as to attend the opening ceremony because on this occasion homage will be paid to the memory of the late King Alexander. M. Laval will then return to Paris to partake in the Chamber Debate on Tuesday, afterwards going to Geneva again when the Saar questions are discussed.—Transocean Kuo Min.

JEWISH EMIGRANTS FROM POLAND

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, November 18, 7.30 p.m.)

Paris, Nov. 18. The newspapers here carry a story about a British steamer named "Velos" which has just arrived from Piraeus with 318 Polish Jews on board who took passage three months ago at Varna on the Black Sea intending to land at Palestine. At the destination permission to land was refused. Since then the "Velos" has steamed from port to port in the Eastern Mediterranean trying to land the passengers but without success. On Monday the would-be emigrants will be conveyed by another steamer to Varna whence they will be taken back to Poland.—Transocean Kuo Min.

DISAGREEMENT IN THE SAAR

Forthcoming Trial For Slander

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press").

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, November 17, 4.30 p.m.)

Saarbruecken, Nov. 17. The step taken by President Knox of the Saar Governing Commission in requesting the Supreme Plebiscite Court to institute criminal proceedings for slander against the signatories of the memorandum recently published by the German Front, appears to be leaving the Saar Press unperturbed with most papers taking the view that the forthcoming trial—which is expected to begin in about a fortnight—is offering a welcome opportunity of publicly airing various matters which should be cleared up in the interest of German voters.

The "Saarbruecken Zeitung" writes "The trial is likely to become a most interesting chapter in the history of the Saar plebiscite and the signatories of the memorandum will be only too glad to name their witnesses. The mere fact that the champions of the German cause must face the Courts in the role of accused is sufficiently characteristic of the League regime in the Saar."

It is stated that Knox took exception to the passage in the memorandum which charges him with partiality by permitting "doubtful political elements commonly called emigrants to invade the Saar territory to interfere with the Saar population's preparations for the plebiscite."

The latest development in the struggle between the Governing Commission and the German Front is a decree issued by the Commission compelling all newspapers in the Saar territory to publish the memorandum recently submitted by the Commission to the League of Nations concerning the alleged coercive activities of the German Front. Since the memorandum fills 26 pages they may publish the text in two instalments.—Transocean Kuo Min.

MANILA TYPHOON DEATHS

Manila, Nov. 18. Over 200 persons are reported to be dead in the latest typhoon, a series of which has been devastating the Philippines in the past fortnight.

It is stated that 30 persons perished at various points in Luzon Island, and 200 at Masabon where a large village is situated in a deep ravine which was apparently overwhelmed by the floods.—Reuter.

AIR RACE PROTEST DISMISSED

Melbourne, Nov. 17. Squadron-Leader Stodart's protest against the timing in the England-Melbourne air race has been dismissed.

He complained that he lost nearly 24 minutes wading through mud to the checking point at Alor Star and also that officials miscalculated the time of his departure to Singapore.—Reuter.

Saarbruecken, Nov. 17.

For publishing an unfounded report that the National-Socialists are planning to assassinate Knox, president of the Saar Governing Commission; Hemsley, chief inspector of the Saar Police, Miss Sarah Wambaugh, an American member of the Plebiscite Committee, as well as other prominent police officials and leaders of the separatist organisation, termed liberty front, with the object of bringing about the occupation of the territory by French troops and which is calculated to influence the inhabitants of the Saar in favour of voting the return of the territory to Germany, the Governing Commission has forbidden the sale of the Vienna newspaper "Reichspost" as well as the emigrant paper "Pariser Tageblatt" for a fortnight in the Saar.—Transocean Kuo Min.

SESSION POSTPONED

Geneva, Nov. 17. At the urgent request of Baron Alois, chairman of the Saar Committee of Three which is at present meeting in Rome, the President of the League Council, M. Benes, decided on Saturday to postpone the Council's forthcoming session, originally scheduled to open next Wednesday, till a later date which will be fixed as soon as possible.

It is understood that unforeseen circumstances cropped up in course of deliberations of the Saar Committee and its financial sub-committee so that they will probably not finish the work before the end of next week.

The Saar discussions in Rome were chiefly concerned with the financial questions which are expected to arise following the plebiscite.—Transocean Kuo Min.

CZECH POLICE

Saarbruecken, Nov. 18. The Czechoslovakian government have sent fifty police to the Saar territory as an auxiliary force during the plebiscite. All members of this troop are men of police officer's rank and all speak German fluently.—Transocean Kuo Min.

NEW CABINET FORMATION

M. Theunis Busy All Night

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, November 18, 4.30 a.m.)

Brussels, Nov. 17. The new Premier designate, M. Theunis who appears to have more luck than Jaspars, was busy till the early hours of Saturday with the formation of his cabinet which he hopes to complete today (Saturday). Jaspars with whom Theunis had a long talk steadfastly refused to join the Government, but the majority of the cabinet members tentatively listed by Jaspars, have agreed to collaborate with the new Premier.

The ex-foreign minister, Eymans, is again the new premier's choice for the post he had occupied for a number of years. Theunis intends to appoint six non-members of Parliament.—Transocean Kuo Min.

BANQUET AT ROME

Austrian Visitors Honoured

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, November 18, 7.30 p.m.)

Rome, Nov. 18. Schuschnigg and Berger-Waldenegg laid wreaths at the grave of the Unknown Soldier on Saturday. The afternoon was passed by the guests at the sea coast and they afterwards visited excavations of ancient Ostia.

A banquet took place in the evening at Hotel Excelsior when Mussolini, the ministers and a large number of distinguished officials attended amid brilliant display of hospitality paid to the Austrian guests of honour.

There is complete silence about Saturday's talk with Mussolini at Palazzo Venezia which is still being maintained. Mussolini has convened a cabinet meeting for Monday morning after which talks with Schuschnigg and party will be resumed.—Transocean Kuo Min.

PENSION TO MADAME DOLFFUSS

Reported Demand Of A Lump Sum

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, November 18, 4.30 a.m.)

Vienna, Nov. 17. Some astonishment was caused in diplomatic circles here by the report, stated to have good authority, that Madame Dollfuss wife of the late Chancellor, had petitioned to the Austrian Government for immediate payment of a lump sum instead of the life-long pension already granted her, and at the same time asked permission to transfer the sum to the clearing account of the Italian Government. This rumour appears to be substantiated by the report that Madame Dollfuss has already despatched her furniture to Italy where, it is said, she intends acquiring a small estate should the alleged petition be granted.—Transocean Kuo Min.

Buenos Aires, Nov. 17. Several Argentine regiments are reported to have been ordered to the frontier where, following the capture of Fort Ballivian by the Paraguayans, many Bolivian contingents are said to be entering Argentine territory.—Reuter.

ANGLO-AMERICAN NAVAL TALKS

London, Nov. 18. Should Japan denounce the Washington Treaty, it is understood that Britain and the United States will continue their talks on a bilateral basis in order to prepare the ground for a new treaty involving multilateral agreements.

The British and American delegates have already discussed the position which would arise if the tripartite talks fail, and the suggestions made by these countries will be discussed by all naval Powers at next year's Conference, which, it is then hoped, will result in a general treaty, in which it will be possible for Japan to join at any time.—Reuter.

WORLD WALK

Young Chinese Feat

Pan Teh-ming, a young Chinese, is reported by the "Shunpao" to have passed through no fewer than 29 countries on a walking tour which started from Shanghai four years ago.

Pan was at first accompanied by several companions, but the latter abandoned the trip when they reached Annam. Pan continued his journey and had since visited Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland, India, Yugoslavia, etc.

At present, Pan is in America from where he intends to proceed to U.S.S.R. next year and then return to China via Siberia, says the "Shunpao".

WEEK-END CRICKET RESULTS

K.C.C. And I.R.C. Draw In Both Divisions

R.A.S.C. BEAT C.C.C. IN JUNIOR LEAGUE

On Saturday, the Indian Recreation Club and the Kowloon Cricket Club senior and junior elevens met in League matches, both games were drawn.

A feature of the first division game was the all-round display by A. R. Minu, who besides scoring 60 runs at a fast pace, captured 5 wickets for 17 runs. The K.C.C. were lucky to force a draw, for when stumps were drawn they were 120 runs in arrears of the Indians total with only two wickets in hand.

The junior match, which also ended in a draw, was played at Sookunpoo, the K.C.C. needed 15 runs to win with two wickets in hand.

The Royal Army Service Corps beat the Craignower at Happy Valley in the only other Junior Division League encounter.

Several friendlies were also played, the Army winning easily against the Craignower while the Club accounted for the Police.

Caer-Clark Cup

"Y" LADIES v. C.B.A. LADIES
In a Caer-Clark Cup competition played on Saturday at the King's Park the "Y" Ladies and the Central British Association Ladies played a goalless draw. The "Y" Ladies were certainly unlucky not to have obtained both points as they were playing the better game but missed innumerable chances.

The "Y" Ladies forwards sadly need shooting practice and were unable to accept passes that came their way.

HONG KONG LADIES v. C.B.S.
The Hong Kong Ladies easily accounted for the C.B.S. on Saturday at the King's Park. The schoolgirls put up a great display but the nippy forwards of the Hong Kong Ladies were too much for them, who penetrated their defence time and again to enable them to score six goals. Miss Joan Churchill playing for the first time for the Champions netted four goals while Mrs. Harrop netted the other two. At half time the score was 4 nil.

FRIENDLY

ST. ANDREW'S LADIES v. RECRELO LADIES

St. Andrew's Club Ladies' team defeated the Club de Recrelo Ladies by 5 goals to nil in a friendly hockey game on the Police Training School ground on Saturday, after leading by two goals in the first half.

Miss M. Woolley (3) and Miss P. Gittins (2) were the goal-scorers.

MELBOURNE CENTENARY OPEN GOLF TITLE

Melbourne, Nov. 17.
Jimmy Thompson, an American professional golfer won the £1,000 Melbourne Centenary Open Golf Championship with an aggregate score of 283 for the 72 holes.

The scores of the others were: Leo Diegel (U.S.) 289, Gene Sarazen (U.S.) and Edward Neil Smith (Victoria) 290, Jack McLean, Scottish champion, who came fifth with a score of 294, won the gold cup for the leading amateur.

Club—157 for 6 wks. (H. J. Armstrong 65, H. W. Baines 58; T. J. Hunter 2 for 57, F. Minty 2 for 83).

ARMY WIN EASILY

At Sookunpoo, the Army defeated the Craignower by five wickets in a friendly match.

The scores were:—
Craignower—82 (J. W. Leonard 31, C. S. M. Elvin 5 for 15).

Army—184 for 6 (Cpl. College 57 ret. Spr. Tucker 28, not out).

SCHOOLBOYS BEATEN

The Diocesan Boys' School lost to the Navy second eleven at King's Park by four wickets in a friendly match.

The scores were:—
Navy—142 for 6 (Lieut. Park-Smith 48, Lieut. Comdr. Besant 26, Comdr. Grace 23, A. J. Hulse 4 for 58, Lee 2 for 36).

RECRELO BEAT LA SALLE

The Club de Recrelo second eleven enjoyed an easy victory over the La Salle College at King's Park, winning by 85 runs.

The scores were:—
Recrelo—153 for 8 dec. (C. L. Lopes 38, F. H. Carvalho 34, J. W. Barros 28; H. Asome 3 for 48).

La Salle—68 (N. Pincheon 28, L. Gosano 18; F. Remedios 5 for 16).

C.S.C. v. C.B.S.

In a friendly encounter at Happy Valley the Civil Service and the Central British School played a drawn game.

The scores were:—
C.B.S.—124 for 6 dec. (R. Trotter 53, A. Jackson 3 for 28).

WEEK-END FOOTBALL

Club Hold Borderers To A Draw

(BY "PIVOT")

Disgraceful scenes marred the Athletic and Lincolns match in the Junior League on Saturday when tempers became frayed and blows were freely exchanged between the players. The crowd rushed on to the field on two occasions and the referee had to abandon the game ten minutes before the end.

Club was lucky indeed to share the points with the Borderers who were unlucky to concede a penalty towards the end while South China "B" beat the Navy in a very dull game.

R.A. went down to the Lincolns by four goals. The best match on Saturday was undoubtedly that between the Athletic and Kowloon in which the Chinese emerged winners by the odd goal in five after a very exciting and interesting encounter. In the third division game between Radio and the Railway a radio player was ordered off for foul play.

SENIOR GAMES

LYNOLNS v. ARTILLERY

From the start the Lincolns were swamping the R.A. goal and it was not long before Ridley opened the account with a well directed shot. Following closely in a melee in front of R.A. goal Higgins scored. Towards the close of the first half the Artillery custodian failed to gather a shot and Higgins rushed in to score again. After the resumption the Gunners were trying their best to reduce the deficit but close to the end Higgins brought his score to three to complete his "hat-trick".

SOUTH CHINA "B" v. NAVY

In a dull and listless game South China "B" beat the Navy by two goals. The game opened with South China attacking for about ten minutes and from a run down the wing Yeung Shui Yick cut in to beat Pepper with a well directed shot towards the corner of the goal.

The Navy defence was playing up to form and if they had the support of their forwards, should have notched on several occasions. Interval arrived with the South China leading by one. Play however deteriorated somewhat and was generally confined to midfield but towards the end of the game a free kick was awarded against the Navy just outside the penalty area and from the resultant kick Li Shek Yau scored with a well directed kick. Final whistle sounded with the score two in favour of the Chinese.

BORDERERS v. CLUB

From the start it looked as though the Borderers were going to have an easy time in the game for Rodgers was called upon to deal with shots from their forwards in quick succession. Fowler

Kowloon v. Club

Kowloon and Club shared the points in a very poor game which was much below the standard of a junior match. Opportunities were missed by both sides. Carr scored for the Club in the first half and Pereira equalised in the second.

Engineers v. Navy

Navy was the better team in this encounter at Sookunpoo. Glass scored Navy's first goal after repeated attacks in the first half, he scored again with a header after the restart and Whittaker reduced after a solo run from the centre line to notch the Engineer's solitary point.

Lincolns v. Athletic

With tempers frayed, deliberate fouls and blows freely exchanged the referee had no alternative but to abandon the above game when repeated cautions were of no avail. The crowd rushed on to the playing field on two occasions thereby impeding the play. The Lincolns were leading by two goals. Setters and Toynes were the marksmen. Towards the end bad feeling was so marked that the game developed into one of "free for all" and the referee had to call a stop to it.

ran down the wing and centred across the goal, the ball curved past Smith into the net. The Borderers were stung by this reverse and play was confined to the Club's goal for about ten minutes when from a miskick by S. Strange, Mullane dashed in to equalise. Shortly after Mathias centred nicely for Jones to put the Club ahead. After the change over E. Strange had a golden opportunity to equalise but shot well over. Ding dong play was then the order of the game and just a few minutes before the end Herbert had the misfortune to slip and fall on the ball and the Club was awarded a penalty. Pote-Hunt made no mistake with the "spot kick".

KOWLOON v. ATHLETIC

Notwithstanding the fact that they turned out a better team than usual Kowloon went down to the Athletic by the odd goal in five. Although being down before the interval China Athletic managed to turn the table on Kowloon in the second half. Fung put the Athletic ahead early on Elliot scored through a crowd of players with the Chinese custodian unguarded. Intercepting a pass from Knox, G. White put Kowloon ahead. Immediately after the resumption Ho Kar Keung sent in a beauty to put China Athletic on equal terms and thereafter the Chinese play improved.

Successful raids by the Chinese forwards saw Ho Kar Keung netting the winning goal with Cord out of position.

Railway v. Radio

Scoring into their own goal in the early part of the game the Railway lost to Radio by two goals. G. Sing scored the other from a pass by Omar. In this match W. Aycock of the Radio was given marching orders for foul play.

R.A.O.C. v. Engineers

R.A.O.C. should have chalked up more than one goal against the Engineers. They were the better team. Gormley scored.

R.A.F. v. Borderers

By their win over the Borderers the Alrmen are once again in the run for the championship. One point behind the Borderers with a game in hand, Purcell scored first for the Borderers with a fast shot and Tait brought the score to level terms following a brilliant run down the wing. Gregory put the Alrmen on winning footing towards the end of the game.

SUNDAY'S GAMES

DIVISION I.

Police v. St. Joseph's College
In a first division game yesterday at Kowloon ground the Police trounced St. Joseph's to the tune of five clear goals. The Saints were without the services of David Leonard who was on the sick list. From the start the Police were attacking and it was not long before Johnson scored. The same player netted again before the interval. In the second half there was only one team, St. Joseph could not get going and goals by Gough, Johnson and Moss brought the score to five.

DIVISION II.

East Lanes v. R.A.
At Chatham Road yesterday the Artillery went down to East Lanes. In a second division encounter by two goals to nil. East Lanes were easily the better team. Ridings scored both the goals in the first half. The play was rather more even in the second half and although East Lanes had the opportunity to score again on numerous occasions they were unable to do so.

DIVISION III.

Recrelo v. East Lanes
The Recrelo third string went down to the East Lanes yesterday by five goals to three. Sanford scored two in the first half and completed his hat-trick in the second. Pritchard and Sanford brought the score to five while Campos (2) and Santos were the "Recs" marksmen.

Police v. R.A.S.C.
The Royal Army Service Corps was the better team when they defeated the Police in another third division encounter yesterday. Beasley and Clark scored in the first half and Clark scored another three in the second. Fan Kwai Choi scored two for the Police.

RUGBY

Club Beat Navy

In one of the most thrilling and interesting encounters ever witnessed on the Club ground for some time, the Club 1st XI defeated the Royal Navy by 18 points to 8 in a friendly rugby match. The game was played at a fast pace.

Club opened the scoring through Rigg following a breakaway by Turner and Robertson failed to convert. Shortly after McGilchrist managed to obtain a try and Castleton failed to add to the points. The Club were pressing but Franks and Howell Davies were up to the occasion relieving many situations with their timely clearance. Rigg was again seen to advantage and almost scored again but was intercepted by Marsh who was injured in so doing.

From an off side about 35 yards the Navy obtained a penalty goal. Just before the interval Howell Davies from a pass from Franks cut through in brilliant style to send Matthews over.

After the resumption play was of a fast pace, both packs being prominent on many occasions. Finally Turner sent Rigg away with a long pass, Munro receiving from him to go over. Castleton failed with the kick.

With only Lammert to beat Baird passed wildly for Matthews to knock the ball into touch. Munro scored his second try shortly after and Castleton again failed with the kick.

Just before the end Rigg scored a sensational try when he followed up a breakaway by Munro, to dribble the ball from the half-way mark and pick up on the Navy line and touch down. Robertson failed to add the points.

COMMUNIST WAR IN CHINA

London Comment

London, Nov. 17.
The long struggle between the National Government and the Chinese Soviet State in Kiangsi and Fukien is clearly approaching a climax, declares the "Times."

Until last autumn the Communists had the better of the annual campaigns, but after a year of unremitting economic and military pressure, Marshal Chiang Kai-shek has driven the Reds from the capital, Shukin, and so reduced their territory. They are now trying to break out westwards.

Happily for China, Kwangtung and Kwangsi are co-operating with Nanking against the Communists. If the latter can be held in the territory they have newly seized, their destruction seems certain.

The possibility of their escape to Szechuan determined General Liu Hsiang to seek assistance from Marshal Chiang Kai-shek. Thus it appears that the Communists performed a signal, though involuntary, service by promoting co-operation between the Central Government and the rulers of outlying provinces.

SOLDIER OF BRITAIN WINS

Final Classic For Griffins Won In A Canter

FAVOURITES SOUNDLY TROUNCED

(BY "MORNING DEW")

The Hong Kong St. Leger, the final Classic of the year for griffins, went to Soldier of Britain. Mr. Li Shiu Pang's candidate. The pony led from start to finish and was never in danger of being beaten.

Cavalcade won the subscription-griffins' Classic and Able Amazon carried off the Australians' event. King's Warden and Electric Star failed to make any impression at all in Saturday's big race, the distance being obviously too long for them.

Several exciting finishes were seen, the outstanding one being the five furlongs race where Oak Bay dead-heated with Brechin. The first and last races provided the biggest dividends of the day. It is gratifying to record once again that the "Daily Press" tipped five winners and sixteen places in eight races.

PORTIA CAUSES UPSET

The meeting began with an upset, where the favourite, Dinty, failed to account for a field of five Australian ponies which had been hitherto unsuccessful. Portia led from beginning to end, with Dinty in close attendance all the way round, the two finishing in that order. Empire Day was third and Polar Star and Friday fourth and fifth respectively. Portia's time of 1.49.4 is the fastest she has ever recorded in her career! Her supporters received almost 10-1 for her success.

Favourite Wins

Heart's Glory, as predicted, won the five furlongs for "D" class in comfortable manner from Chief Seattle and Boxing Eve. The pace was a fast one, Stickypast taking a slight lead from Iron Grey, Chief Seattle, Boxing Eve and Heart's Glory, in that order. Boxing Eve got slightly the better of the argument at the head of the straight but once Heart's Glory drew up with him, the race was all over. Chief Seattle took second place and Boxing Eve just managed to stall off Great Hall for third place.

Hong Kong St. Leger

Soldier of Britain won the final classic of the season for griffins in convincing manner, coming home in a canter in front of Ribble, Soldier of China and Gladiator.

King's Warden and Electric Star, made a brave show in the early part of the race, but faded out of the picture after the first mile because the pace set by Soldier of Britain, who went in front early in the race, was too hot. The first mile was finished in 2.02.2, which found the "Soldier" in front with Gladiator, Soldier of China and King's Warden following him with about seven lengths between them. Half a mile from home Soldier of Britain was so far in front that Delta kept looking back to see what had happened to the rest of the field. Soldier of China and Gladiator were still pursuing the leader (though it seemed rather hopeless) and Ribble was quickly making up ground. The last-named finished very strongly and took second place. Soldier of China and Gladiator tied for third place. Electric Star was fifth, King's Warden sixth.

Fanning Handicap

Young Chap carried the betting in the six furlongs race and thanks to a beautiful finish by H. C. Pih, managed to account for Hell for Leather and Delightful Chance. The pace was very fast. Chesterfield and Delightful Chance going all out to contest the lead. Hell for Leather came through to take the lead at the Distance Post and looked all over a winner when Young Chap came along with a big rush to decide the issue. A very spectacular finish.

The Sub-Griffins St. Leger

Cavalcade did not disappoint his many backers for he won the Sub's St. Leger by four lengths from Classic Hall. Soldier of Fortune was third and St. Ives fourth. Pih held the favourite well in hand over the first six furlongs. Then he crept up on the leaders (Little Beauty, St. Ives, Tiny Star and Copper Idol).

At Black Rock, St. Ives was running beautifully in front, with Copper Idol close on his heels, followed by Cavalcade. Classic Hall was still some way behind. Rounding the bend into the straight St. Ives still led followed by Cavalcade and Copper Idol with Classic Hall coming rapidly up. Cavalcade was given the bit at the distance post and won handsomely. Classic Hall finished second. Copper Idol faltered when a hundred yards from home, allowing Soldier of Fortune to come through to race St. Ives for third place, the former just getting the verdict. The time was very slow!

Castle Peak Handicap

King's Bounty and Oak Bay shared the favourite's position in the five furlongs sprint and the former finished fourth while Oak Bay had to share honours with Brechin.

Oak Bay, King's Fancy, and King's Bounty shot out of the gate together and stayed in front until the head of the straight where the two "Kings" began to slip back. Oak Bay shook off the opposition at the distance post and drew clear away, but Brechin came along with a strong rush at the finish and managed to dead heat with the Dunbar candidate. High Speed filled third place.

Freemantle St. Leger

Able Amazon won the Freemantle St. Leger easily from Bag Tor with Racing Heart third, High Finance fourth, and Mutiny Bay last. Going out in front Racing Heart, followed by Able Amazon set a slow pace, the first three quarters of a mile being in 1.34. The last mile was in 1.47.1, which is some going indeed!

As soon as the pace began to liven up, (the fourth quarter was in 25 seconds) Able Amazon crept up on the leader and going in front at the Rock, sailed merrily home with a last quarter of 32.1. Bag Tor passed Racing Heart in the straight to take second place. High Finance was fourth and Mutiny Bay last.

Jungle Jim

The last race of the day fell, as predicted to Jungle Jim who won easily from The Tiger in the excellent time of 2.02.1 W. H. Choy who rode the winner was very confident throughout, taking charge of matters at the Rock, by which time the sprinters had exhausted themselves. He won easily from The Tiger and Daylight Eve. Wayward stag was a good fourth. The winner gained the handsome dividend of $31.30.

SISTER SHIP TO QUEEN MARY

Clyde Shipbuilders
 Handicapped

(Special Air Mail Service)

Glasgow, Oct. 28. Difficulties which Clyde shipbuilders have to face in quoting for such work as the building of the sister ship to the Queen Mary were mentioned by Mr. Donald M. Skiffington, of Messrs John Brown and Co., when he addressed the Glasgow City Business Club on "The Building of a Ship."

Nothing with regard to the second ship, he said, had been done by the Cunard-White Star Company, but Messrs John Brown and Co., like their competitors, were anxious and willing, despite all the worries associated with the Queen Mary, to commence work on it. Disadvantage With Competitors "But I may say," Mr. Skiffington proceeded, "that the Clyde shipbuilder, when quoting for work of this nature, is severely handicapped and at a great disadvantage with his competitors, both on the North-East Coast of England and in Northern Ireland."

In these parts the shipbuilder was not called upon to prepare the river. On the North-East Coast all the shipbuilder had to do was to dredge out a hole deep enough to launch his vessel, after which she came alongside the wall. That was the end of it.

Messrs John Brown and Co. had to meet very onerous charges apart from the hole dug for the launch. They kept up their own basin, which was nine or ten feet deeper than the Clyde. They had also to pay for any dredging which might be necessitated by the building of such a large vessel.

Dredging Costs It was quite all right so far as the Queen Mary was concerned in so far that Messrs John Brown knew what they were doing. They knew what could be done, and they got the job. That was all public now. Other people knew their prices. It was only a matter of cutting out the cost of dredging, and Glasgow and Clydeside were out of it.

The steel-tubes, etc.—all came from the Glasgow area. The timber was all bought here, and therefore it would be a very serious matter for Clydeside if the second Cunard-White Star liner did not come to the Clyde.

"When we built the Aquitania," Mr. Skiffington divulged, we paid £35 a day for a dredger. For the same dredger at the present time we are paying £65 a day, costs which our competitors do not have to take into consideration.
